DEDICATION

WE DEDICATE TO YOUTH. . . .

As the 1953 graduates are handed their diplomas, they will embark on the road of life ahead, wherever it may take them.

And proceeding side by side with youth along that road will be progress. With that eagerness to advance which only youth can provide and with the wisdom which youth can obtain only from older generations, that road will lengthen. Each problem faced, whether or not the answer will prove to be the true one, will be a stepping-stone.

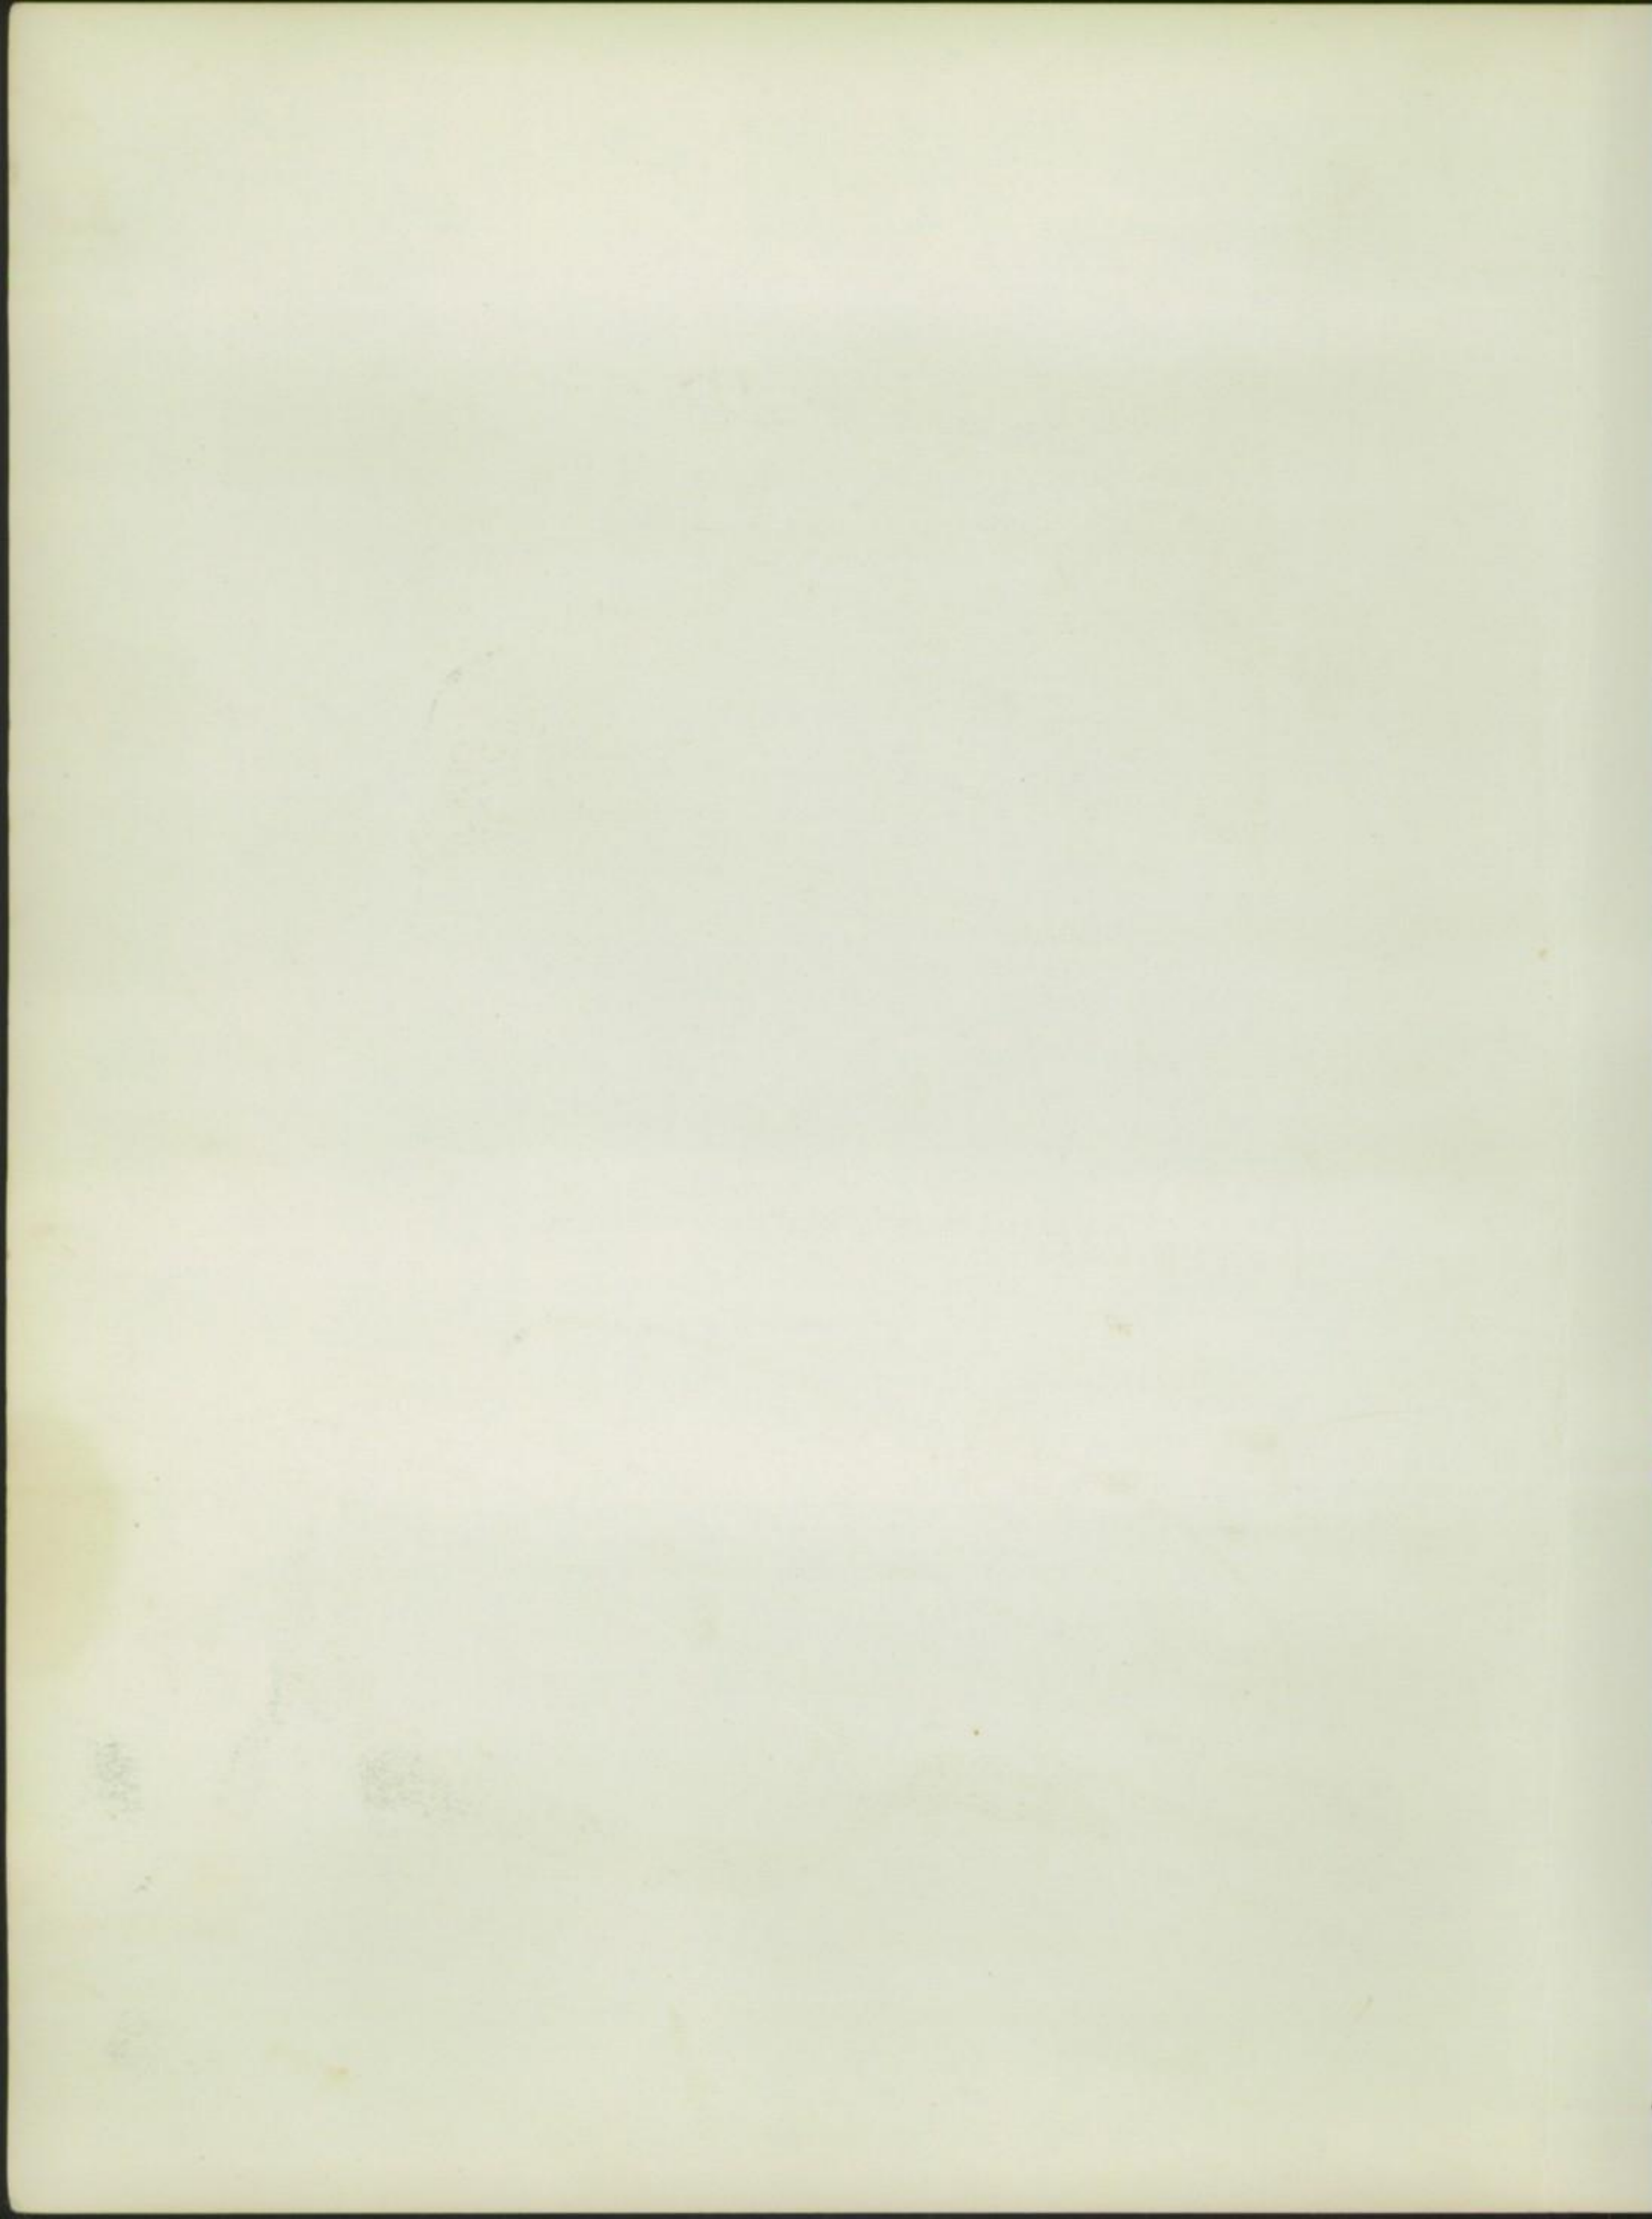

Today, as youth leaves through graduation, the world of high school and its joys, it will be met by the seriousness of living in an age of atomic power. And on the shoulders of youth will be placed the consequence of that power.

This book is dedicated to youth with the hope that the goal which they seek will be inspired by a higher Power than that which a scientist could provide.

As youth moves, so shall the progress of the world.

"The youth of a nation are the trustees of posterity."

CLASS HISTORY

When in the course of school events, it becomes necessary for the Senior Class to dissolve the educational bonds which have connected it to the other classes, and to assume the duties of citizenship for which their school life has prepared them, a decent respect to the opinion of the other classes requires that they should transcribe the history leading up to their graduation.

We, the Senior Class of 1953, entered the halls of Latah High School in the fall of 1949, feeling a bit apprehensive but eager to begin our higher education.

Our first class consisted of; Rodger Hodgson Pres., Bob Crabb Vice Pres., Charlene Lyon Sec., Wanda Knobel Treas., Lily Bippes Class Rep., and Mona Lee Litzenberger.

We were a little nervous about initiation and had an extremely deep fear of the mighty sophomores, but we have survived all-right, even though they tried their best to initiate us in the most horrid fashion.

We were joined in our freshman year by Jim Woods, who stayed with us for a month, then returned to Spokane to finish his schooling. Mr. Miller was our adviser for the first year.

As our second session convened, we elected as class officers, Bob Crabb Pres., Mona Litzenberger Vice Pres., Charlene Lyon Sec., Lily Bippes Treas., and Wanda Knobel Class Rep. Mrs. Attebery was chosen to be our adviser for this year.

The high light of our sophomore year was initiating the frosh and giving them as bad a time as we knew how!

As Junior Statesmen we began our third session by electing Mrs. Workman adviser, Rodger Hodgson Pres., Mona Lee Litzenberger Vice Pres., Lily Bippes Sec., Charlene Lyon Treas., and Wanda Knobel Class Rep.

Bob Crabb was the only statesman that did not rejoin our ranks in the third year. He finished his school days in Spokane.

Our class rings arrived October 30, while we were popping corn for the P.T.A. Carnival. We were glad for the experience of popping corn for the Carnival, as it helped us when we sold popcorn, pop, candy and apples at the basketball games in an attempt to raise a little money so we could take our long awaited sneak the next year.

To climax our third session, we presented a banquet to the senior class at the Spokane Hotel.

Taking our honored places as Senior Statesmen, we chose Mr. Miller as our adviser. For our governing body we elected Lily Bippes Pres., Rodger Hodgson Vice Pres., Charlene Lyon Sec., Wanda Knobel Treas., and Mona Litzenberger Class Rep.

We ordered our calling cards and announcements in October.

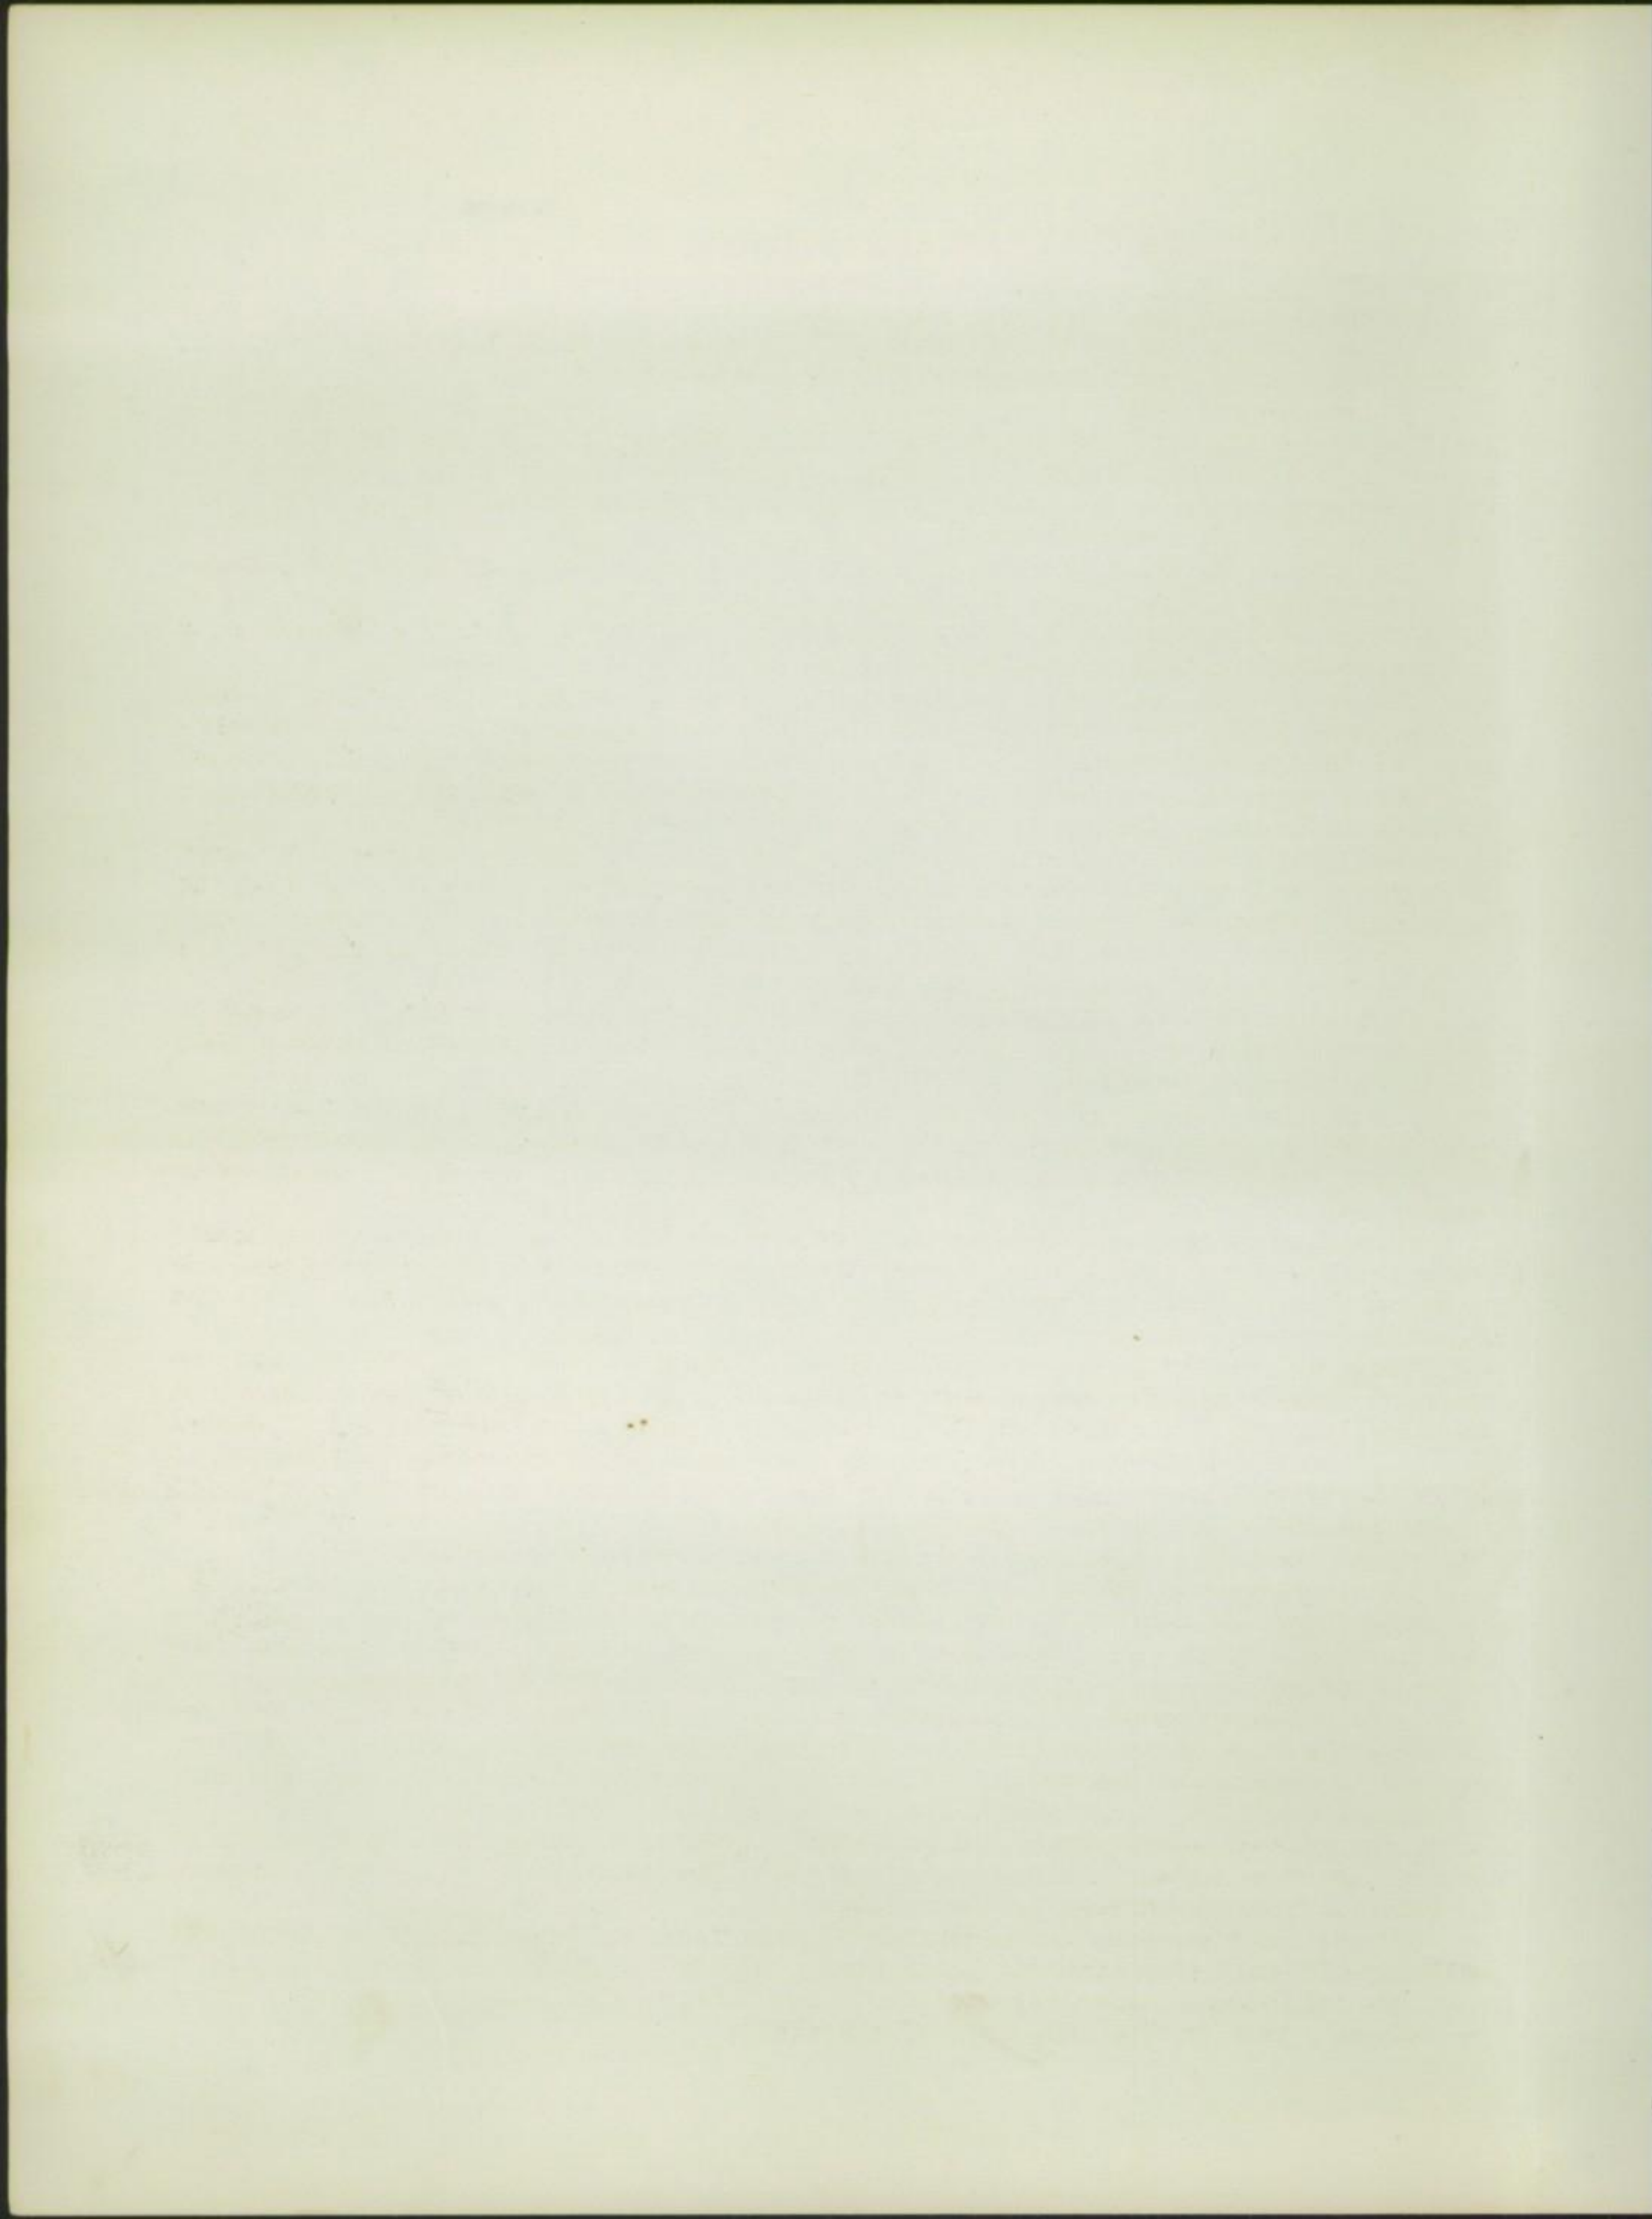

The class play, "A Pair of Country Kids," was presented on November 21 to a large and appreciative audience.

We chose Christian Studio to take our graduation pictures.

Our class published "The Bobcats," which includes pictures of our classes and many treasured memories of our last school year.

The junior class presented us with a delicious banquet in Spokane.

After a very successful sneak, we received our diplomas and faded gracefully into the oblivion known as citizenry of our nation, wishing best of luck to each class that follows us.

CLASS PROPHECY

Bumpety-bump-bump, the old "Wagon Time" is still rolling on; into the year 1983, down Potomac Avenue in Washington D. C., where it rolls to a brief halt in front of one of the more distinguished restaurants in the city.

The owner and cook of this thriving business is peering over the top of the grill with spatula in one hand, and knife in the other, waiting for some poor sucker to happen in. Business is a mite slack at the present time. It seems that the President passed a law stating that hamburger should contain 80 per cent horse meat, due to the scarcity of dogs.

But who cares about hamburgers? Take a look at that cook, short and blonde! Now let me see, I know, it's that little Senior time bomb of the class of '53 at Latah High, well known as Charlene Lyon. Who would ever imagine her owner of a restaurant in our nation's capital?

Her assistant, waitress, hostess, and all-around handy-man is another blonde; a few feet taller than Charlene. She is that old familiar acquaintance and mainstay of the Senior class at L. H. S., none other than the always jolly Lily Bippes. It seems these two, now ladies, have been in business for the past 20 years, moving to higher positions at the present location.

But, get down to business and look sophisticated, ladies, because a customer is heading your way, and from here she really looks loaded. The flash of diamonds is enough to put out a horse's eye. Shhh, here she comes!

Well, knock me over and call me goofy, could that be, no--yes, why it's the present Mrs. Russell Dean Lyon, alias Wanda Knobel.

But get a load of this! Her husband recently made an important discovery in the chicken industry. Through complicated methods he has produced a chicken that will lay two eggs in one day.

Since that time Wanda has been making a tour through the United States and around the world in behalf of the new discovery. She stopped off at Washington D. C. to see the President about cutting the rate of income taxes which seems to be one of her main worries.

Speaking of the President and he appears! Taking a look at him, no one would ever guess he was that little shrimp known as Peanuts in high school days. He must only lack a hair of being six feet tall. Of, course, stilts give much the same impression.

This is President Hodgson's first year in office. He was elected by the Stunaep Party, which reversed spells "Peanuts", a branch of the almost forgotten Democratic party. His fame first spread when he promoted the issuing of rubber bills, to replace the old "green backs", his policy being "Stretch Everything!"

The shock of meeting all these old classmates has somewhat excited Wanda, and she falls over in a faint. Charlene rushed out for the nurse next door, while Lily gets some cold water, and Rodger stands by in case he's needed.

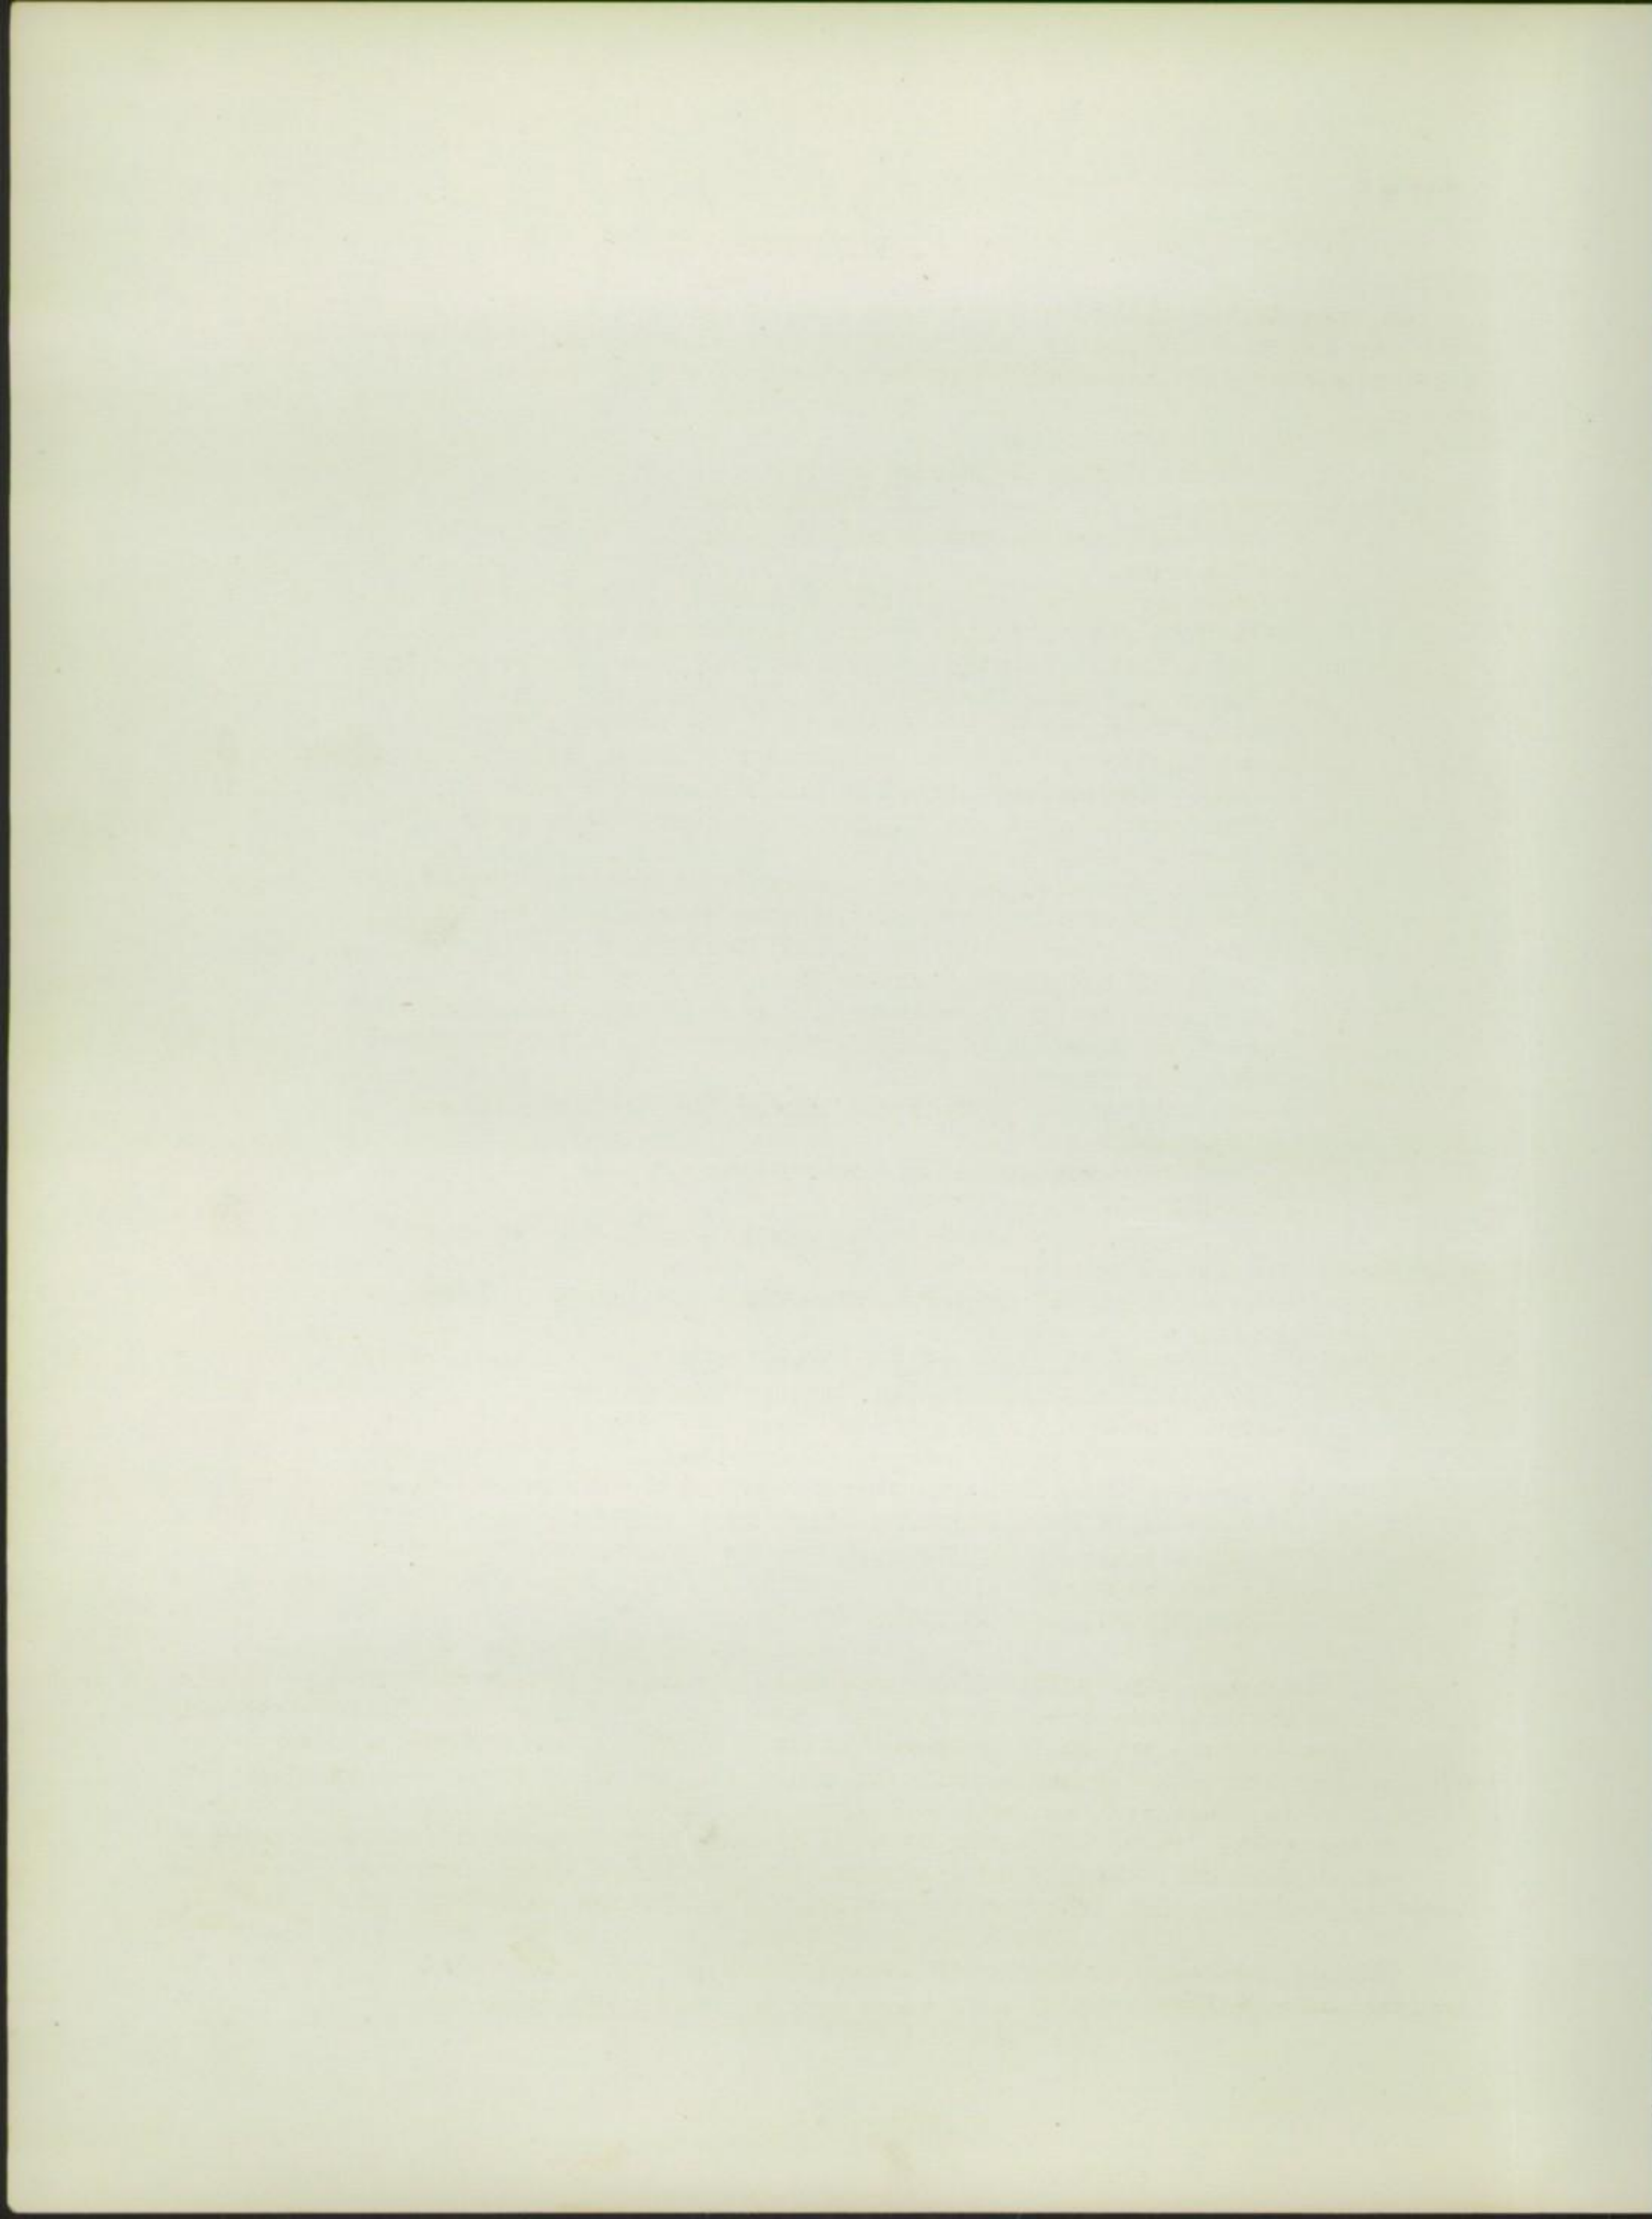

The nurse comes rushing in with needle in hand and kneels down beside the still unconscious patient. The cold water has somewhat revived her, and her eyelids flutter open. But with the added shock of seeing another classmate, she passes out again. The nurse is that one and only Mona Lee Litzenberger.

The nurse prepares to administer a shot of her famous "Cure All." Any patient who gets a chance to first see that needle is instantly cured. It's long enough to pierce an elephant's hip, as big around as the barrel of a gun and made of glass.

The patient seems to be coming around again and reopens her eyes slowly at first, and they widen in horror when she spots the needle that was about to pierce ---well, a speedy recovery is the result!

Wanda reassured the nurse that she feels fine, and the "Big Five" begin recalling old and happy times at Latah High.

But old "Wagon Time" is bumping off into the future, leaving this happy group to become a part of the long road of memories.

CLASS WILL

We, the Senior Class of 1953, being of sound mind and of reasonable intelligence, do hereby will, give, and bequeath the following articles and talents to our dearly beloved classmates, friends, and faculty to have and to hold forever, and ever.

I, RODGER HODGSON, DO HEREBY WILL--

My way with women to Jackie Rhoades.
To Harry Entman, my basketball suit #17 and position on the team.
My driving ability to Harold Scheele hoping that he can get to school faster on his motor scooter.
My ability to stay up late at night to anyone who can stand up under the strain.

I, LILY BIPPES, DO HEREBY CONFER--

My Chemistry book to Betty Berg, hoping that she will enjoy the course better than I did.
To Gary Schafer, my height, so he can better reach that girl of his.
My "most beautiful" singing voice to Mary Lou Berg.
My ability to sell ads to Kermit Ellis.

I, MONA LEE LITZENBERGER, DO HEREBY DONATE--

My position in the trio to Marilyn McBride.
My memories of my many trips to Spokane to any girl who can think of so many good excuses to get out of school to make these trips.
My ability to play the baritone in the school band to Dond Koehne.
My windy-way, well, to just anybody.

I, CHARLENE LYON, DO HEREBY GIVE--

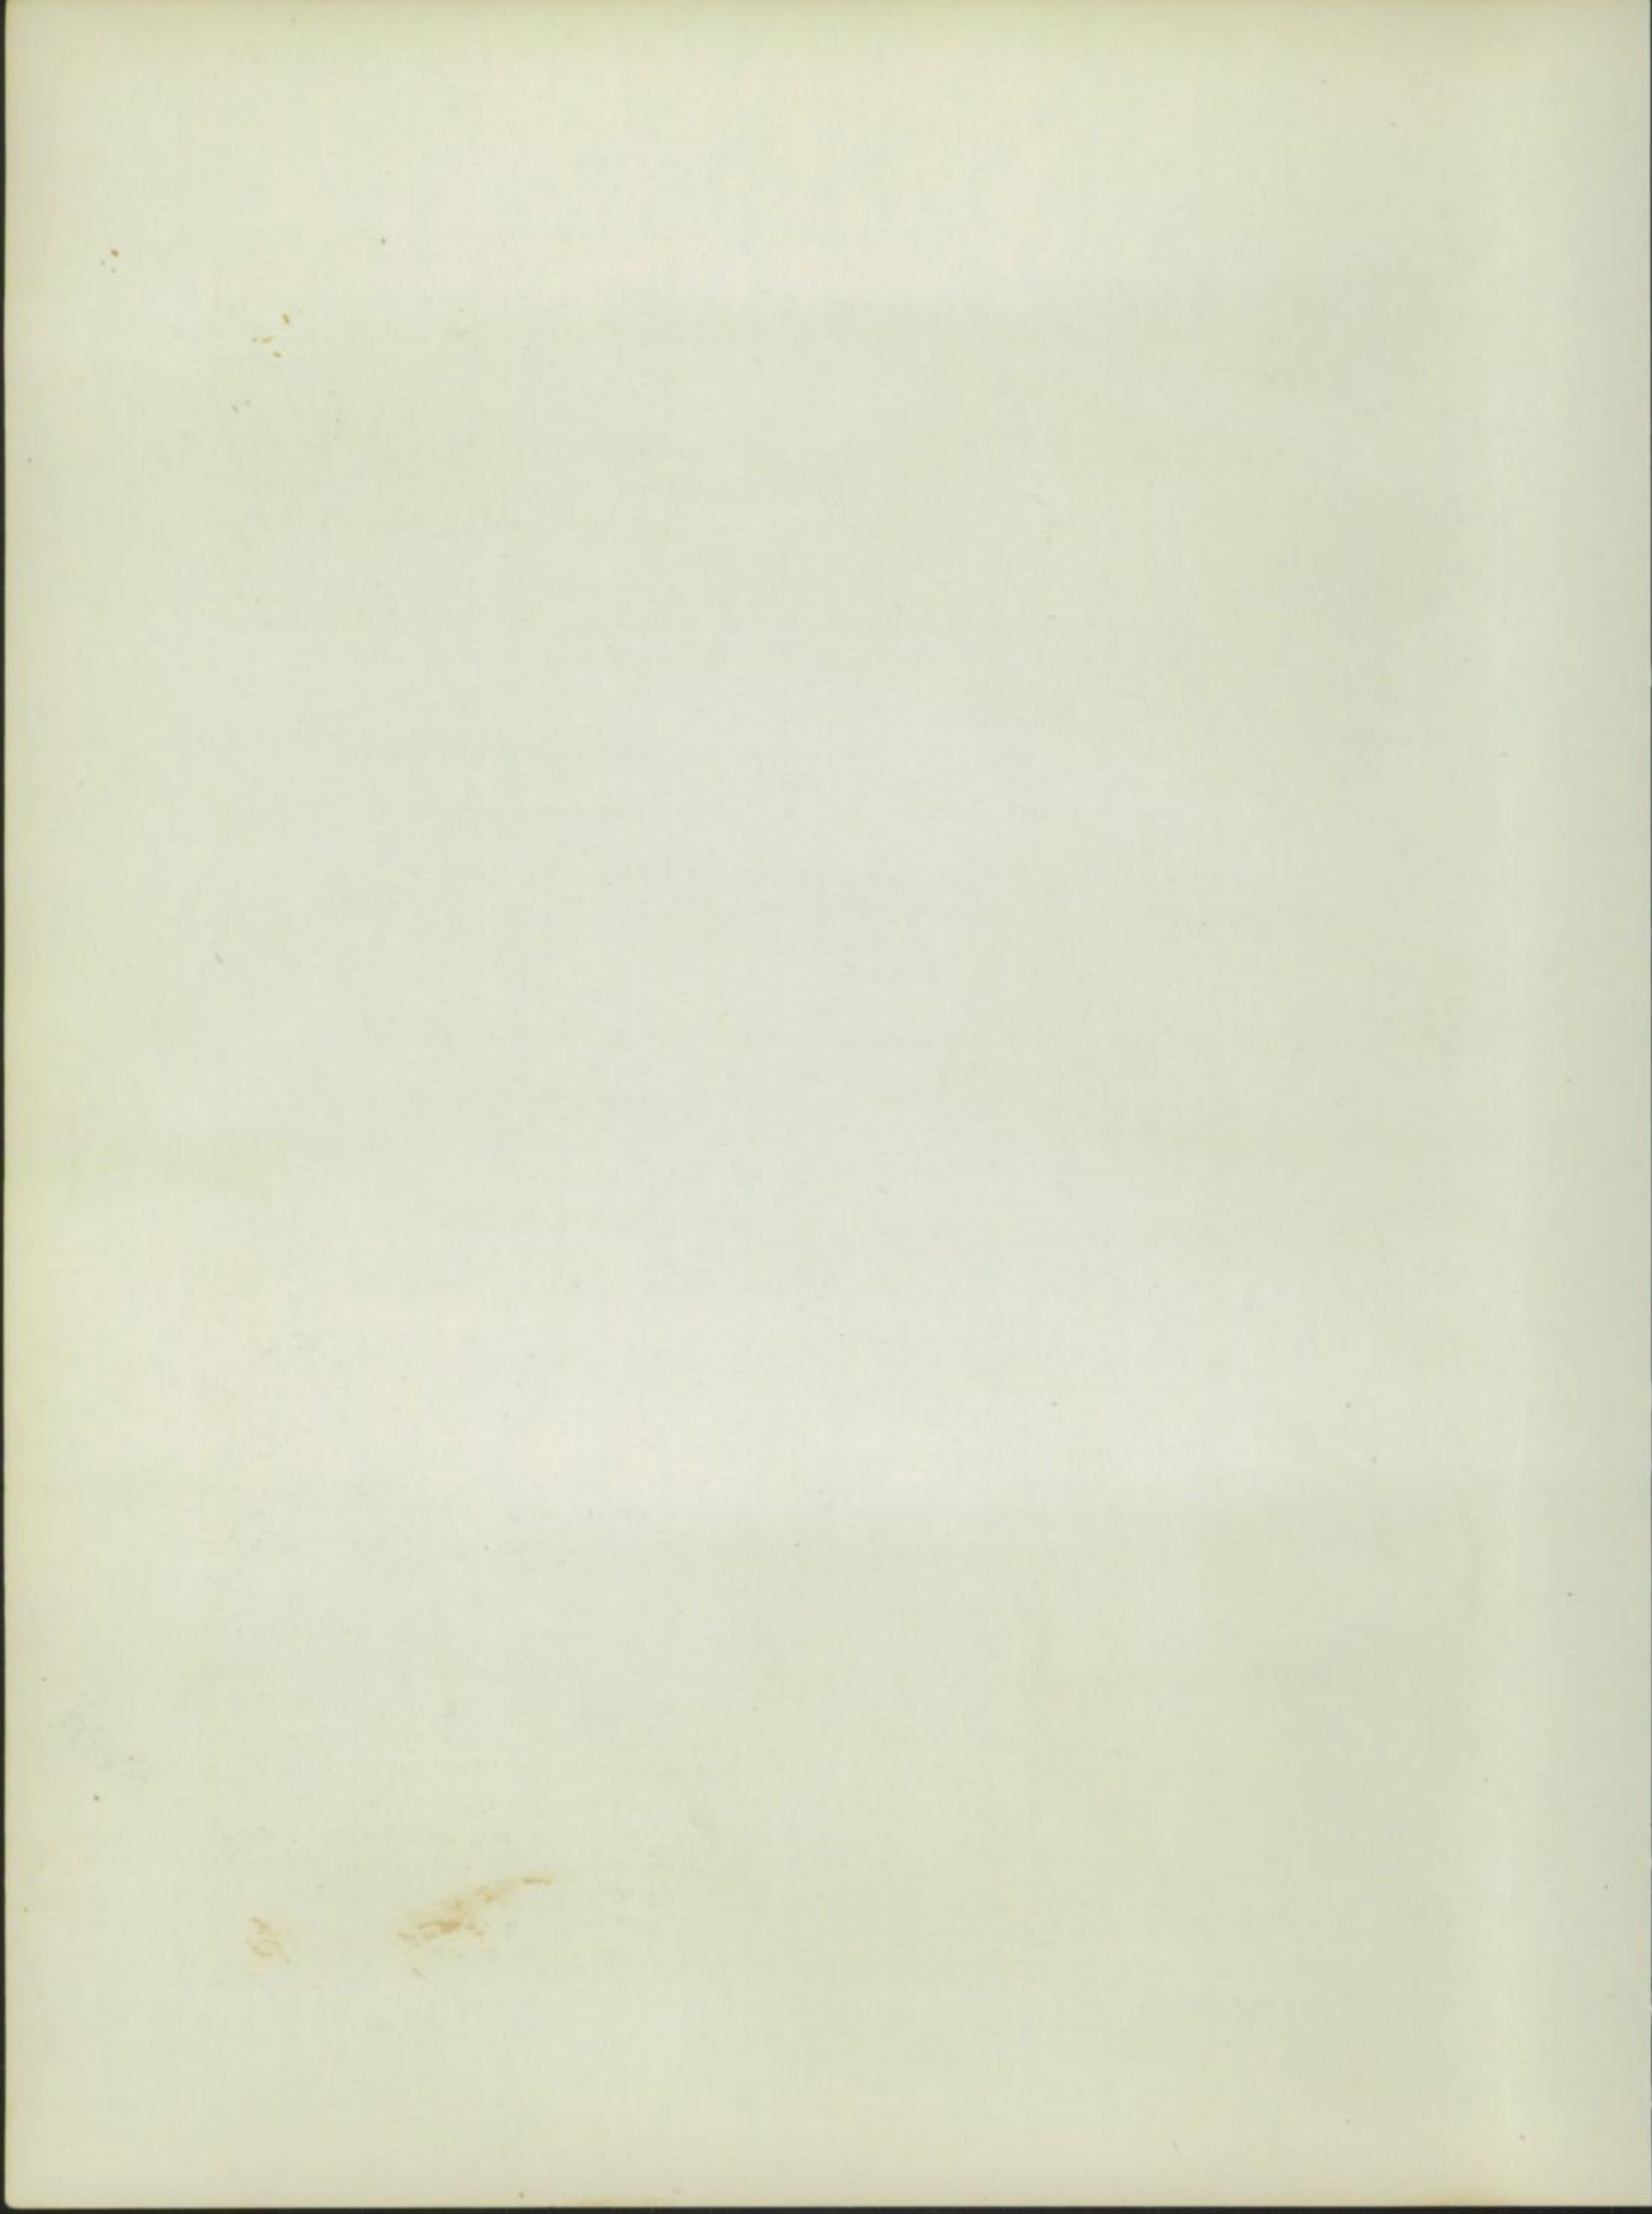

My methods to catch the right man to Janice Garber.
Some of my pep to Billy Wolf.
My ability to squeeze into the lunch line to Franklin Leitz.
To Joyce Stapp, a roll of tape to mend her broken heart.
My yell-queen outfit to Harold Frickie.

I, WANDA KNOBEL, DO HEREBY BESTOW--

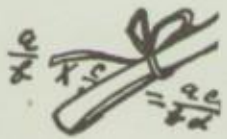

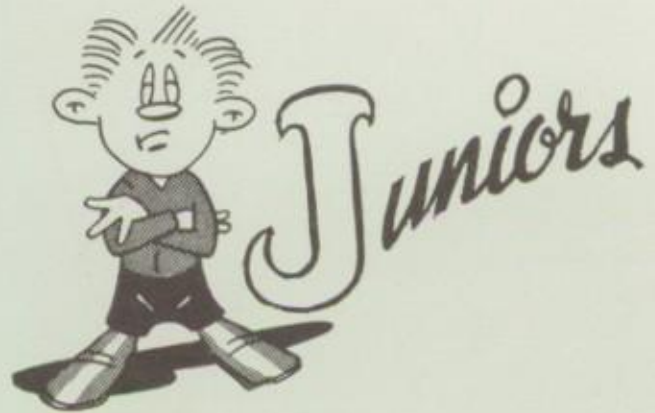

My love for housekeeping to Alex Matt.
To Joel Martensen, my experience with the school fund, so he will better handle the junior class money.
My ability to get along with one man for four years to Irma Helmke.
To Jim Clausen, my great taste for coffee.

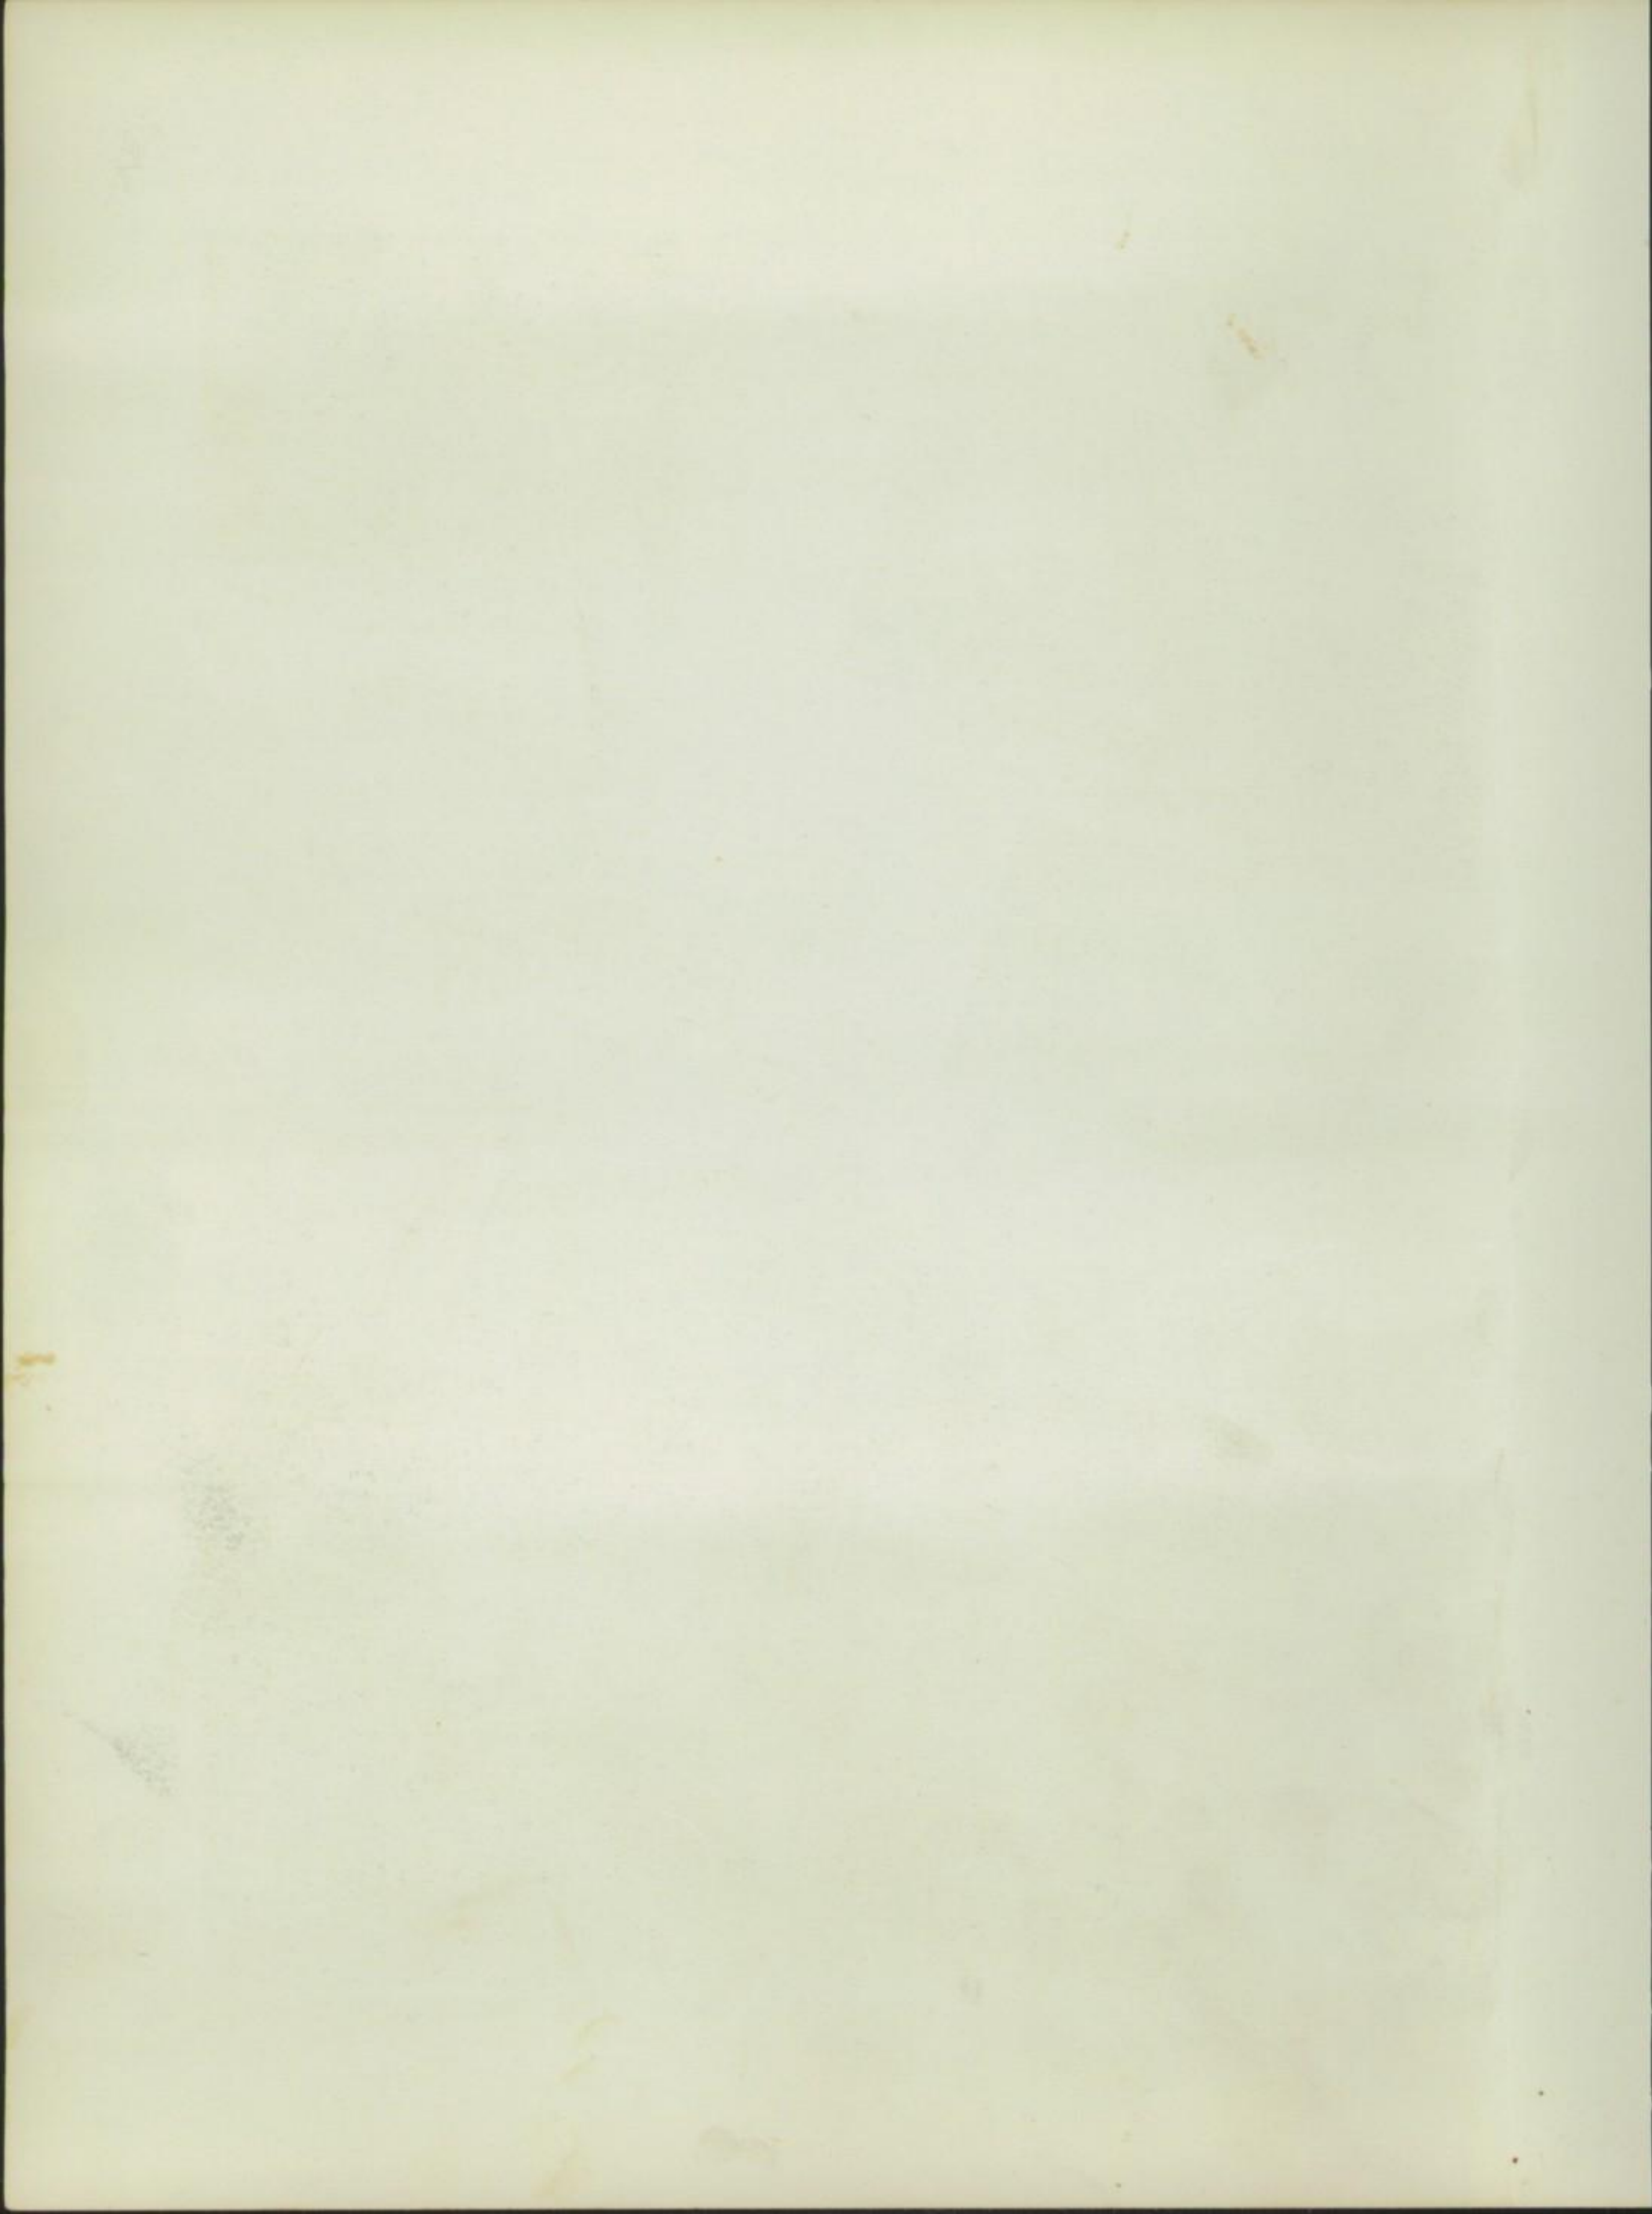

We, the Senior Class, the school's main foundation, bequeath our high intellectual rating to the freshman class. We leave all the boys in high school, except Dale Bippes, to the sophomore girls. We will our ability to make an annual to the juniors. To Miss Hoff, we will a T. V. set to be put in her new Buick. To Mr. Stanford, we will a better set of chemistry students than he has had in the past. To Mr. Latimer, we will a large gym floor so he can more easily train his basketball team. To Mr. Miller, our adviser and friend, we leave the many fond and pleasant memories we have had with him the past four years.

Signed, sealed, and delivered by the Class of '53, this 28th day of May, in the year of our Lord, 1953.

EDITORIAL

The scene around L. H. S. is certainly a busy one. In looking back on the three months of school, I re-ca scenes. The industrious students ha-

If we student body shall suffer hunger", verbs 19:15. We can proudly say it isn't the case here.

But in spite of being busy, the students have remembered to take time out to observe the more common things of life. Common, but special, as we approach Thanksgiving of 1952.

If you were to enter into the study hall your eye would be caught by the artistical arrangement of the "horn of plenty" and a Thanksgiving scene on the bulletin board.

SENIOR PLAY MADE BIG HIT

Life is pretty humdrum at Joggins Junction, where Mrs. Starr conducts the Starr Hotel, whose guests consist of two paying customers, Lucindy Appleby, looking for husband number one; and Susan Grimes, looking for husband number two.

The "star" boarder is Ambrose Sneg-gins, a verterianrian who has been "shelved" by the advent of the automo-bile, but who refuses to retire.

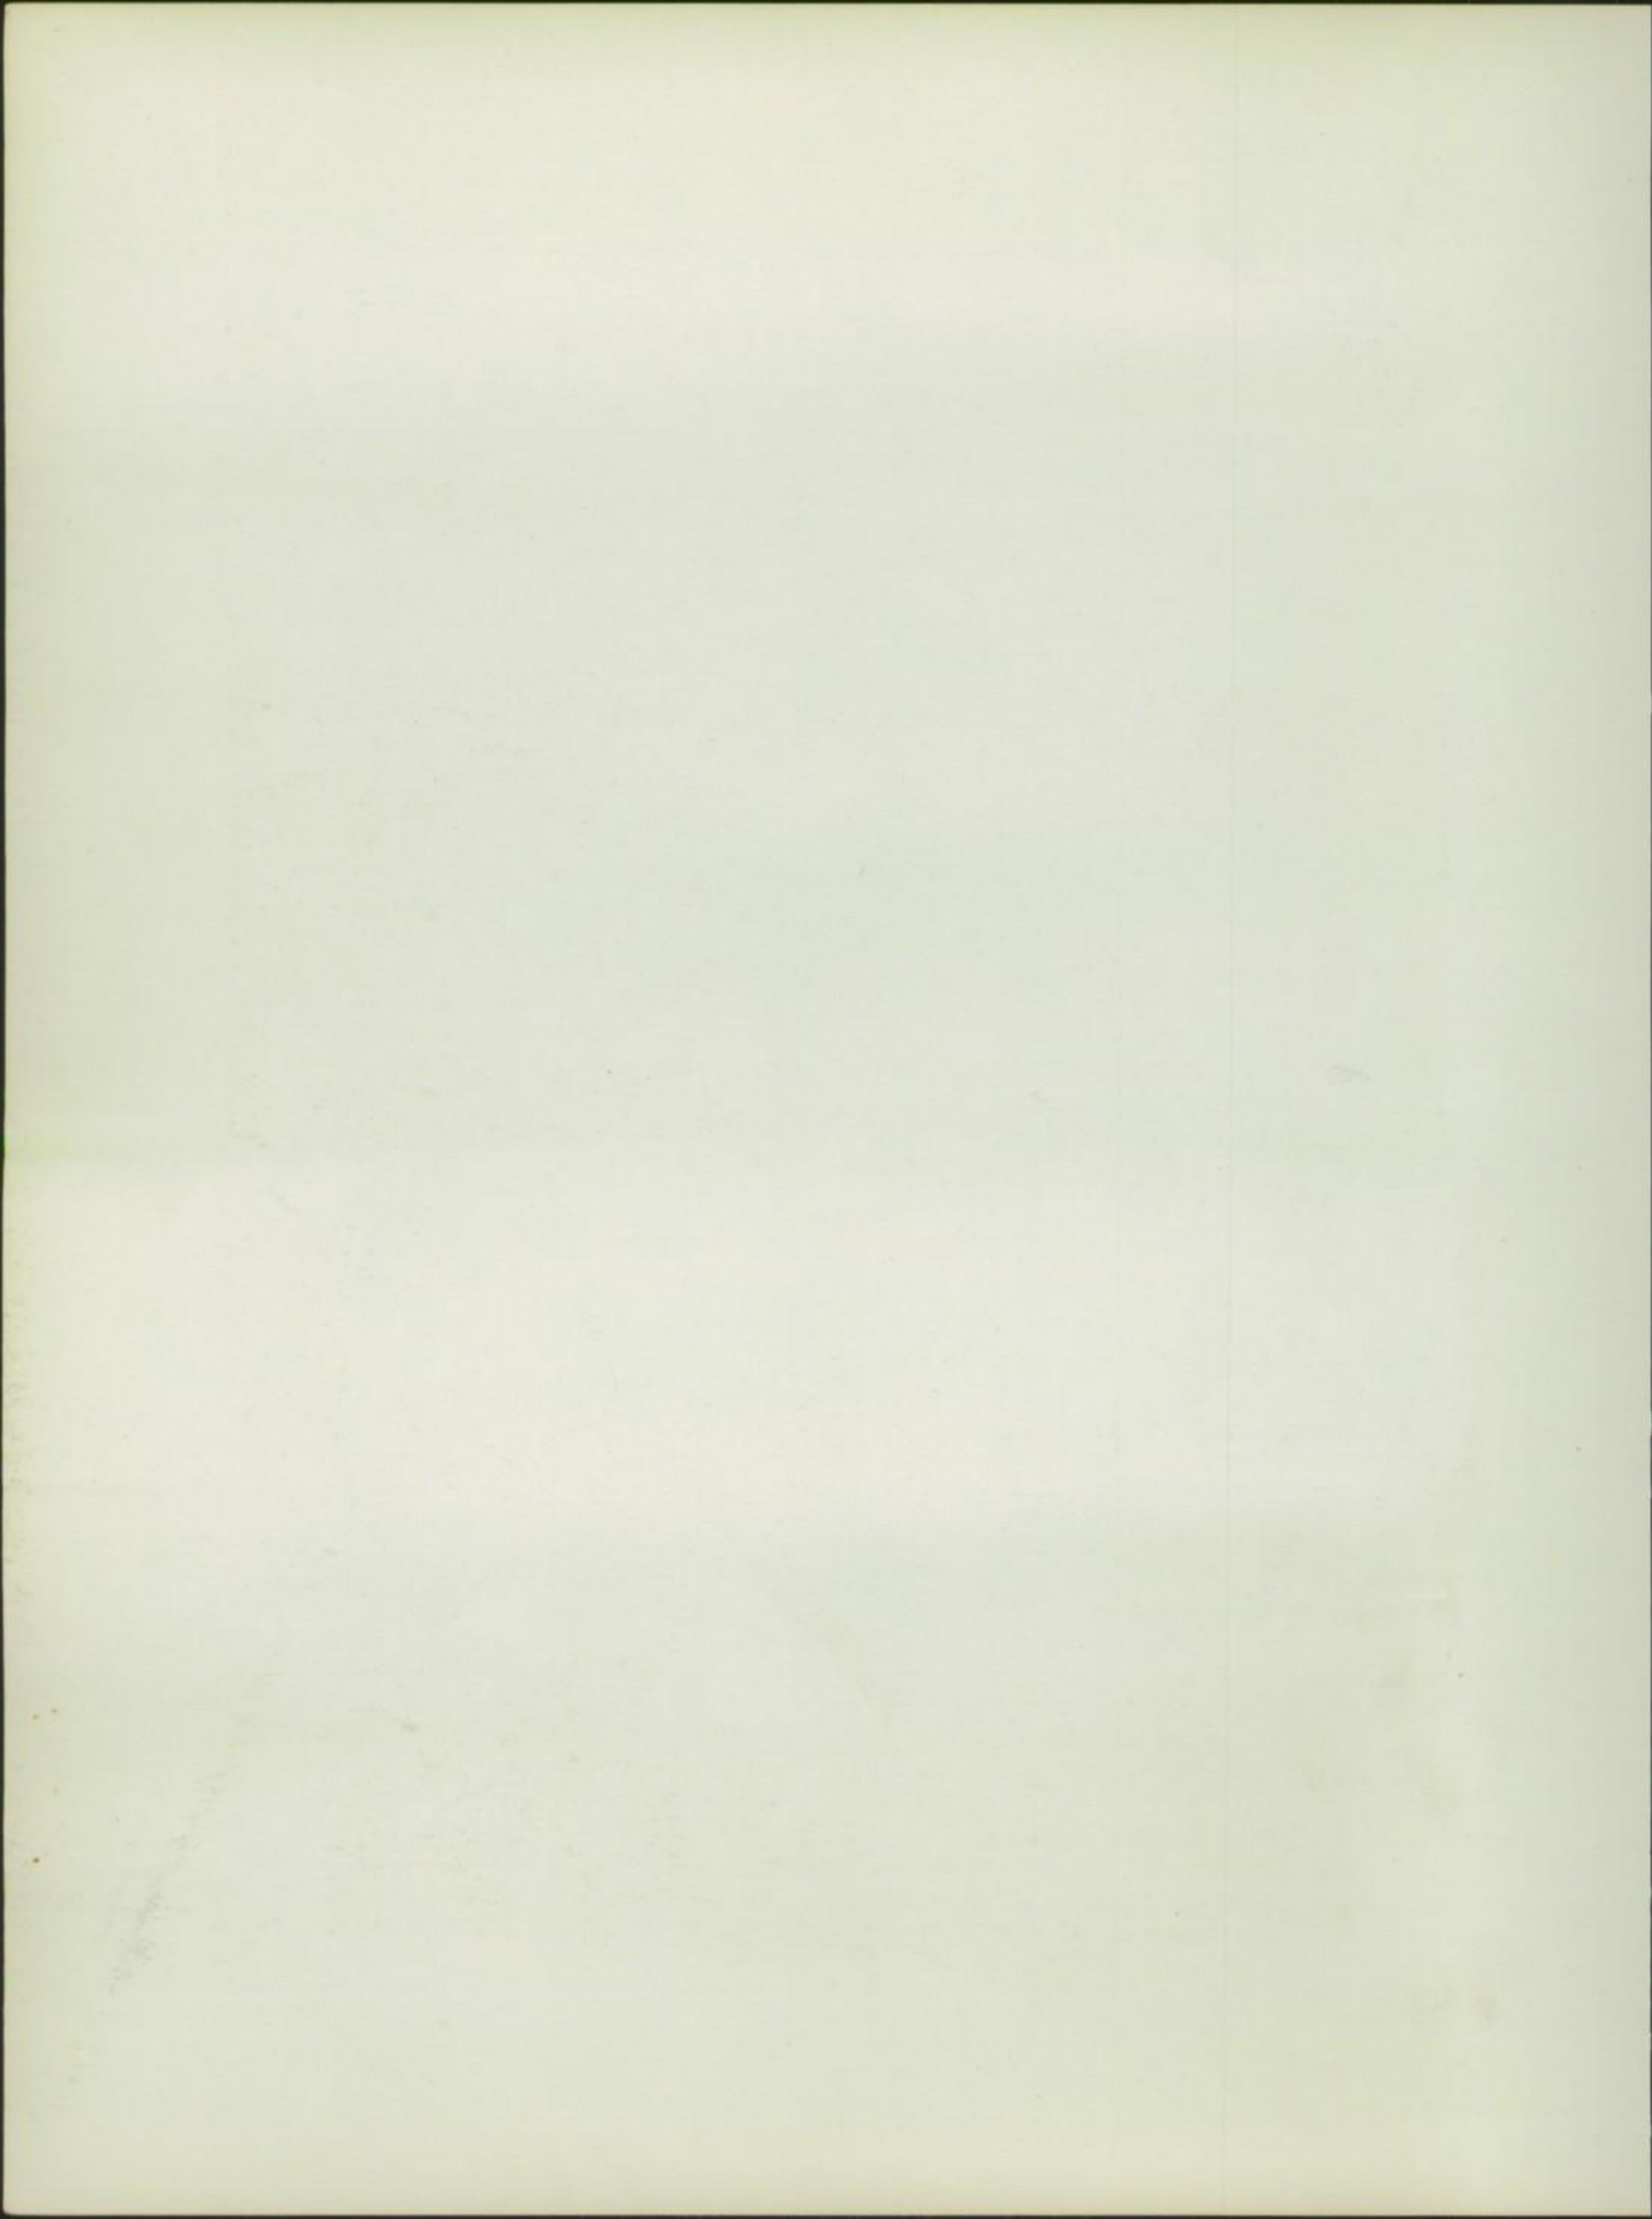

The transient guests are few and far between. Therefore, when Mrs. Starr receives a letter postmarked New York City, requesting a reservation for the best room in the hotel, all are an up-roar of excitement.

The letter is from Mr. A. Roomer, and both Lucindy and Susan make their minds that he is the man they have been waiting for. With this in view, each one bribes Hi, one of the country kids, to put in good word for her with the re-up of help new orth "git work ce ts af- these talking doubt about anything, he offers to rent them one of his books to help solve the dilemma.

While all are awaiting the arrival of Mr. Roomer, another new comer arrives on the scene. He is Arthur Roberts, who is seeking to buy the Starr House as a future health resort.

Philip West, a young lawyer in love with Mrs. Starr's daughter, April, arranges for Roberts to come to Joggins Junction to look over the place.
